Discussion moderators: Michael Sims, assistant dean for student involvement, Ashley Adams, associate director for student involvement, Bailey Jimmison, assistant director for student involvement, Nancy Guinane, technical support

S&B Reporter: Abraham Teuber

NSO

- NSO will be mostly online, but hoping to have some social programming in person, with community values sess
- Pre-orientation programs (GSP, IPOP, PCPOP) will likely not happen this year since the school year is starting earlier and because of testing limitations
 - ◆ Look out for more information, but last that Michael Sims heard is these will not happen
- Ashley and Bailey are ensuring that there is still programming for international students (with OISA), may utilize students who were hired as mentors to do online programming
- Email nso@grinnell.edu with questions

Student Orgs/Co-Curriculars

- No definite process for student org reregistration, email will come from SGA once that's determined
- Org Fair may be online and asynchronous
- "Large groups" have yet to be defined, perhaps around 20 people?
- Not yet able to determine what physical spaces will be able to be used on campus, working on compiling this
 - ◆ Some of these spaces are also being considered as classroom space so that social distancing can happen easier than in a standard classroom, which is making this process more difficult
- Organizations with paid positions (publications, etc.) won't be able to post on Handshake until a student employment plan is further determined
- ITS and Ashley Adams are meeting to discuss how SGA can help student orgs meet virtually, but this process is just beginning. Worried about data security
- SPARC is looking into online platforms to support all preexisting student publications, in very early stages
 - ◆ Potential for publication positions to be paid remains to be seen, actively being worked out
 - ◆ All positions will be posted on Handshake once finalized to ensure equity of employment opportunities

- Publications will still make the hiring decision and handle the process, just will work with HR to make sure
- Organizations centered around houses (language and project houses) may be able to exist in a different form not dependent on living situations
- Email studentinvolvement@grinnell.edu for questions
- All Campus Events will not happen, absolutely no Harris parties/concerts in their previous form
 - ◆ Looking at virtual concert opportunities, continuation of virtual open mics that have happened
